1. Background and purpose

- 1.1 The Victorian Government Solicitor's Office (VGSO) encourages employees and members of the public to report known or suspected incidences of improper conduct.
- 1.2 The purpose of this document is to establish procedures for receiving and handling disclosures of improper conduct engaged in and/or detrimental action taken by VGSO and/or its officers or employees.
- 1.3 These procedures have been prepared in accordance with the Protected Disclosure Act 2012 (the Act) and the guidelines of the Independent Broad-based Anti-corruption Commission (IBAC) which are available on the IBAC website (www.ibac.vic.gov.au).

2. Who can make a protected disclosure?

- 2.1 Any person can make a protected disclosure about improper conduct engaged in, or detrimental action taken by, VGSO and/or its officers or employees.
- 2.2 You can make a protected disclosure if you are a member of the public, an employee or officer of VGSO.
- 2.3 You can make a disclosure as an individual or together with a group of individuals.
- 2.4 A company or business cannot make a protected disclosure.
- 2.5 You can ask someone else to make a disclosure on your behalf. However, if you ask someone else to make a disclosure on your behalf, only that person will receive the full protection of the Act in relation to that disclosure. Your protection will be limited to confidentiality and protection against detrimental action taken against you in reprisal for the disclosure that has been made.
- 2.6 You do not have to specifically refer to the Act or the protections in the Act for your disclosure to be a 'protected disclosure'. You may also advise that you do not want your disclosure to be treated as a 'protected disclosure'.

3. How do I make a protected disclosure?

- 3.1 You may make a protected disclosure:
- (a) in person;
 - (b) by phone;
 - (c) by leaving a voicemail message;
 - (d) in writing by post, personal delivery or email;
 - (e) by any other form of electronic communication; and/or
 - (f) anonymously.
- 3.2 You may not make a protected disclosure by fax.

- 3.3 A protected disclosure must be made in private so it is important that only the person to whom you are making the disclosure can hear or receive your disclosure. For example, if you make your disclosure by email, your disclosure should be sent to the email address of the person to whom you are making the disclosure, rather than a group email. You are not precluded from making a joint disclosure with a group of individuals at the same time.
- 3.4 If you are making your disclosure verbally, the person receiving your disclosure may take notes of your discussion. The person receiving your disclosure may also want to record the conversation, but will only do so with your permission.
- 3.5 You do not have to identify yourself when making a disclosure. However, if your disclosure is anonymous, this may affect how the disclosure is investigated and you will not be notified of the outcome of any investigation.
- 3.6 If you cannot be identified from the disclosure, the disclosure will be treated as an anonymous disclosure.

4. What can I make a protected disclosure about?

- 4.1 You may make a protected disclosure about information that shows or tends to show, or that you believe on reasonable grounds shows or tends to show, that:
- (a) a person, public officer or public body;
 - (b) is engaging in, or proposing to engage in;
 - (c) 'improper conduct' and/or 'detrimental action'.

Public officer and public body

- 4.2 The conduct you are disclosing must be in the performance of a person or body's function as a public officer or public body. In other words, there must be a link between the alleged improper conduct and/or detrimental action and the person or body's functions as a public officer or public body.
- 4.3 VGSO is a public body. Its officers and employees are public officers.
- 4.4 For a full definition of 'public body' and 'public officer' see Schedule 1 of these procedures.

Improper conduct and detrimental action

- 4.5 The conduct you are disclosing must be improper conduct and/or detrimental action.
- 4.6 The definitions of improper conduct and detrimental action are explained in the diagram below.

'Improper conduct' is defined as:
'CORRUPT CONDUCT' or 'SPECIFIED CONDUCT'

Corrupt conduct is:

- Conduct of any person that adversely affects the honest performance of functions by a public officer or public body;
- Conduct of a public officer or public body that constitutes or involves:
 - the dishonest performance of functions by that public officer or public body; or
 - a knowing or reckless breach of public trust.
- Conduct of a public officer or public body that involves a misuse of information acquired by that officer or body in the performance of functions as a public officer or public body; or
- Conduct that could constitute a conspiracy or an attempt to engage in any of the above conduct.

and which would constitute:

- an indictable offence;
- an attempt to pervert the course of justice;
- bribery of a public official; or
- perverting the course of justice.

Specified conduct is:

'Corrupt conduct' that would not constitute an indictable offence, but would constitute either a criminal offence or reasonable grounds for dismissing or terminating the services of the officer engaged in the conduct

OR

Conduct of a public officer or public body that:

- involves substantial mismanagement of public resources;
 - involves substantial risk to public health or safety; or
 - involves substantial risk to the environment
- and which would constitute either a criminal offence or reasonable grounds for dismissing or terminating the services of the officer engaged in the conduct.

'Detrimental action' is

Action taken or threatened against a person in reprisal for someone making or intending to make a protected disclosure, where that action:

- causes injury, loss or damage;
- is intimidation or harassment; or
- is discrimination, disadvantage or adverse treatment in relation to a person's employment, career, profession, trade or business (including disciplinary action).

Detrimental action is not legitimate management action where there are good and sufficient grounds that would justify the action against any other person in the same circumstances.

Examples of improper conduct

1. A public officer takes a bribe or receives a payment other than his or her wages in exchange for the discharge of a public duty.
2. A public officer sells confidential information.
3. A public officer favours unmeritorious applications for jobs by friends and relatives.

Examples of detrimental action

1. A public body demotes, transfers, isolates in the workplace or changes the duties of a person who has made a disclosure due to the making of the disclosure.
2. A public officer threatens, abuses or carries out other forms of harassment directly or indirectly against the person who makes a disclosure and his or her family or friends.
3. A public body discriminates against the person who makes a disclosure or his or her family and associates in subsequent applications for jobs, permits or tenders.

'Reasonable grounds'

- 4.7 Your belief that improper conduct or detrimental action has occurred, is occurring, or will occur does not have to be based on actual proof. It is enough if you believe (as opposed to know) that improper conduct or detrimental action has occurred, is occurring or will occur. However, you must have reasonable grounds for your belief.
- 4.8 A mere suspicion, allegation or conclusion that is unsupported by further information, facts or circumstances will not be protected by the Act. For example, it is not enough to say 'I know X is corrupt'. You must have information that would lead a reasonable person to believe that the information shows, or tends to show, improper conduct or detrimental action.

5. Who do I make my protected disclosure to?

- 5.1 Who you can make your protected disclosure to depends on the person or body your disclosure is about, as only certain persons and entities can receive protected disclosures.
- 5.2 If your disclosure is made to a person or entity that cannot receive your disclosure, your disclosure will not be a protected disclosure and you will not be protected under the Act. It is therefore important that you check that you are providing your disclosure to the right person or body. If in doubt, disclosures should be made directly to IBAC, unless the disclosure is about IBAC or one of its officers.

Making a disclosure about the Victorian Government Solicitor's Office and/or its employees and officers

5.3 If you wish to make a protected disclosure about the VGSO or any of its employees and/or officers, you may make your disclosure to:

6. What will happen after I make a disclosure?

- 6.1 The procedures in this part relate to disclosures made to VGSO. Disclosures made to IBAC or the Ombudsman will be handled in accordance with IBAC's guidelines and processes.

Receipt of disclosures

- 6.2 The receipt of your disclosure to VGSO will be acknowledged verbally, or in writing (if a postal or email address is known). You will also be advised of the key steps involved in the process for handling your disclosure, including the timeframes involved.

Assessing disclosures

- 6.3 Upon receipt of your disclosure, the Protected Disclosure Coordinators will assess whether the disclosure complies with the requirements of the Act (as set out in Parts 2 - 5 of these procedures).
- 6.4 At this time, the Protected Disclosure Coordinators may also discuss with you the provision of welfare support (for example, the appointment of a welfare manager) and the precautions VGSO will take to prevent detrimental action taken in reprisal for you having made a disclosure. For more information on this, see Parts 8 - 9 of these procedures.
- 6.5 In some circumstances, it may be necessary for VGSO to report your disclosure to Victoria Police for immediate investigation. It may also be necessary for VGSO to take action to prevent certain future conduct (including taking action against the person you have made the disclosure about). For example, a VGSO employee may be concealing evidence of criminal conduct. This action may take place before VGSO has decided whether your disclosure meets all of the requirements in the Act.

Notification to IBAC

- 6.6 If the Protected Disclosure Coordinators determine that your disclosure complies with the requirements of the Act, the Protected Disclosure Coordinators must notify your disclosure to IBAC, in writing, within 28 days of you making the disclosure to VGSO. Your disclosure will then be known as an 'assessable disclosure'.
- 6.7 The Protected Disclosure Coordinators will advise you verbally, or in writing (if a postal or email address is known) within 28 days of you making the disclosure to VGSO that your disclosure has been notified to IBAC and that it is an offence under the Act to inform anyone that your disclosure has been notified to IBAC. VGSO may also provide to IBAC information that it has obtained whilst it was assessing whether your disclosure should be referred to IBAC.
- 6.8 If the Protected Disclosure Coordinators determine that your disclosure does not comply with the requirements of the Act, the Protected Disclosure Coordinators will advise you of this within 28 days of you making the disclosure to VGSO. In that event, you may wish to seek that your disclosure be dealt with in accordance with VGSO's grievance and misconduct policies.

Assessment by IBAC

- 6.9 IBAC is responsible for identifying, investigating, exposing and preventing serious corrupt conduct across the whole of the Victorian public sector.
- 6.10 Once VGSO notifies your disclosure to IBAC, IBAC must assess within a reasonable time whether (in its view) your disclosure is a protected disclosure. It may seek additional information from you and/or VGSO to make its decision.
- 6.11 If IBAC determines that your disclosure is a protected disclosure, it must decide to either:
- (a) dismiss your disclosure;
 - (b) investigate your disclosure; or
 - (c) refer your disclosure to the Victorian Ombudsman.
- 6.12 Regardless of whether IBAC determines your disclosure is a protected disclosure or not, you will still receive the protections under the Act. This includes protection from detrimental action taken in reprisal for you making the disclosure.
- 6.13 However, if IBAC determines that your disclosure is not a protected disclosure, the confidentiality requirements set out in Part 11 of these procedures no longer apply in relation to your disclosure.

7. What protections will I receive?

- 7.1 The Act sets out the protections provided to persons who make a disclosure in accordance with the Act. These include:
- (a) immunity from civil or criminal liability as well as administrative action (including disciplinary action) for making the disclosure;
 - (b) immunity from committing an offence under the Constitution Act 1975 or any other Act that imposes obligations of confidentiality or otherwise restricts the disclosure of information;
 - (c) immunity from breaching any other obligation (made by oath or rule of law or practice) requiring the maintenance of confidentiality or otherwise restricting the disclosure of information; and
 - (d) protection from an action for defamation.
- 7.2 These protections apply to a disclosure from the time you make the disclosure and continue to apply even if the Protected Disclosure Coordinators determine the disclosure does not comply with the requirements of the Act or IBAC determines that the disclosure is not a 'protected disclosure'.
- 7.3 The protections in the Act do not apply if you provide false or misleading information or claim that a matter is the subject of a protected disclosure knowing that claim to be false.
- 7.4 The protections will apply to further information relating to a protected disclosure that you provide to:
- (a) VGSO;

- (b) IBAC; or
- (c) an investigating entity.

7.5 In addition to these protections, VGSO recognises that the welfare and protection from detrimental action of persons making genuine protected disclosures is essential for the effective implementation of the Act and is relevant to VGSO's obligation to create a safe working environment under the Occupational Health and Safety Act 2004, the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006, the Public Administration Act 2004 (Vic) and the common law.

8. Welfare Management

8.1 VGSO will provide welfare support to a discloser or a witness in an investigation as the circumstances require.

8.2 VGSO will also consider appointing a welfare manager when a person has made a protected disclosure or is cooperating, or intending to cooperate, with an investigation of a protected disclosure.

8.3 A welfare manager is responsible for:

- (a) examining the discloser and/or witness' immediate welfare and protection needs and, where that person is an employee, fostering a supportive work environment;
- (b) providing practical advice and support;
- (c) advising the discloser and/or witness of the protections available under the Act;
- (d) receiving and responding to any disclosures of detrimental action in reprisal for making the disclosure (eg harassment, intimidation or victimisation);
- (e) ensuring that the discloser and/or witness' expectations of the process and outcomes are realistic;
- (f) maintaining confidentiality; and
- (g) operating discreetly to protect the discloser and/or witness from being identified as being involved in a protected disclosure.

8.4 In determining whether to appoint a welfare manager in any particular case, VGSO will consider:

- (a) whether the disclosure has proceeded, or is likely to proceed, to an investigation;
- (b) whether there are any real risks of detrimental action against the persons involved, taking into account their particular circumstances;
- (c) whether VGSO can provide effective support to the persons involved, including keeping them informed of the progress of the disclosure; and
- (d) whether it is within VGSO's power to protect the person/s involved from suffering repercussions.

- 8.5 VGSO may appoint an internal person as welfare manager or engage a contractor to provide welfare services. VGSO will also consider referring an employee to its Employee Assistance Program.
- 8.6 If a welfare manager is appointed to look after a discloser or witness, the welfare manager will only be required to provide reasonable support and should discuss the reasonable expectations with the person(s) they are supporting.

9. Protection from detrimental action

- 9.1 VGSO will take precautions to prevent its officers, employees and agents from taking detrimental action in reprisal for a protected disclosure. This includes identifying, assessing, controlling and monitoring risks of reprisals faced by disclosers and witnesses.
- 9.2 The precautions taken by VGSO will depend on individual circumstances and the disclosers and witnesses will, where possible, be consulted about any action that is taken.
- 9.3 If a person reports an incident or conduct that may amount to detrimental action, the person receiving the report (irrespective of their role) will record details of the incident and advise the person of the protections they will receive under the Act (as set out in Part 7 of these procedures).
- 9.4 A disclosure of detrimental action is itself a protected disclosure and will be assessed as a new disclosure in accordance with these procedures.
- 9.5 Where the detrimental action is of a serious nature that is likely to amount to a criminal offence, VGSO may consider reporting the matter to the police or IBAC.
- 9.6 If you are an employee who has made a protected disclosure and you believe on reasonable grounds that detrimental action will be, is being, or has been taken against you, you may request a transfer of employment to another government agency on terms and conditions that are no less favourable overall to you. Note that all requests of this nature will be considered, but a number of conditions must be satisfied before they are granted, including:
- (a) the Victorian Government Solicitor must be satisfied there are reasonable grounds to suspect detrimental action will be, is being, or has been taken against you;
 - (b) the Victorian Government Solicitor must consider that the transfer will avoid, reduce or eliminate the risk of detrimental action; and
 - (c) the head of the 'receiving' government agency consents to the transfer.
- 9.7 If you have sustained injury, loss or damage as a result of detrimental action taken against you in reprisal for a disclosure being made, the Act sets out remedies that are available to you. You may wish to obtain legal advice about this.
- 9.8 While there are these protections, there are also responsibilities. In particular, if you have been involved in the improper conduct or detrimental action which is the subject of your disclosure, you will still be held liable for your own involvement. Making a disclosure does not provide you with immunity for your own wrongdoing.
- 9.9 You must not disclose the content, or information about the content, of a disclosure that has been notified to IBAC by VGSO or information which is likely to lead to the identification of the person who made that disclosure unless permitted to by the Act. See Part 11 of these procedures for further information.

10. What happens if a protected disclosure is made against me?

- 10.1 VGSO recognises that employees against whom disclosures are made must also be supported during the handling and investigation of disclosures and will provide welfare support to you during the handling and investigation of a disclosure as the circumstances require.
- 10.2 VGSO will only disclose information about the subject of a disclosure in accordance with the law (and as explained in these procedures and its 'Protected Disclosure Management' procedures).
- 10.3 Where investigations do not substantiate disclosures, the fact that the investigation has been carried out, the results of the investigation and the identity of the person who is the subject of the disclosure will remain confidential.

11. Confidentiality

- 11.1 There are a number of confidentiality obligations which arise under the Act and other laws relating to the receipt and investigation of protected disclosures.
- 11.2 If you repeat your disclosure to someone other than as permitted by the Act, you may lose the protections provided for in the Act. For example, if a disclosure is repeated to the media and the media reports on it, you may not be protected from defamation action. You may also breach your confidentiality obligations.
- 11.3 VGSO will only disclose information about you or your disclosure in accordance with the law. The Act prohibits the disclosure of information received in relation to a disclosure that has been notified to IBAC by VGSO except in certain limited circumstances.
- 11.4 The circumstances in which a person may disclose information obtained about a protected disclosure that has been notified to IBAC by VGSO or information which is likely to lead to the identification of the person who made that disclosure include:
 - (a) in accordance with a direction or authorisation given by the investigating entity that is investigating the disclosure;
 - (b) to the extent necessary for the purpose of taking lawful action in relation to the conduct that is the subject of the disclosure, including disciplinary process or action;
 - (c) the IBAC or the Victorian Inspectorate has determined that the disclosure is not a protected disclosure;
 - (d) where necessary for the purpose of the exercise of functions under the Act;
 - (e) by an investigating body where necessary for the purpose of the exercise of functions under the Independent Broad-based Anti-corruption Commission Act 2011, the Victorian Inspectorate Act 2011 or the Ombudsman Act 1973;
 - (f) for the purpose of a proceeding for an offence under a relevant Act;
 - (g) for the purpose of a disciplinary process or action in respect of conduct that would constitute an offence against a relevant Act;

- (h) for the purpose of obtaining legal advice or representation in relation to rights, liabilities, obligations or privileges under a relevant Act;
- (i) in limited circumstances, to an interpreter, parent, guardian or independent person for the purpose of understanding the confidentiality obligations under the Act; and
- (j) an investigating body has published a report to Parliament or otherwise made public the content of the disclosure consistent with the confidentiality requirements of the Act.

11.5 The Act also prohibits disclosing information that is likely to lead to your identification unless permitted to do so in accordance with the Act.

11.6 IBAC or the relevant investigating entity may disclose your identity and the content of your disclosure if it is necessary for the purposes of their investigative action. In that case, the public body or public officer to whom the information has been disclosed is bound by the same confidentiality requirements.

12. Criminal offences

12.1 There are a number of offences set out in the Act relating to breaches of the requirements of the Act. The key offences to be aware of are:

- (a) it is an offence to take detrimental action against another person in reprisal for a protected disclosure;
- (b) it is an offence to disclose the content, or information about the content, of a disclosure that has been notified to IBAC by VGSO or information which is likely to lead to the identification of the person who made that disclosure unless permitted to by the Act;
- (c) it is an offence for any person to:
 - (i) provide false or misleading information, or further information that relates to a protected disclosure, that the person knows to be false or misleading in a material particular, intending that the information be acted on as a protected disclosure;
 - (ii) claim that a matter is the subject of a protected disclosure knowing the claim to be false; and
 - (iii) falsely claim that a matter is the subject of a disclosure that IBAC has determined to be a protected disclosure complaint; and
- (d) it is an offence for any person to:
 - (i) disclose that a disclosure has been notified to IBAC for assessment unless permitted to do so by the Act; and
 - (ii) disclose that a disclosure has been determined to be a protected disclosure complaint unless permitted to do so by the Act.

13. Alternatives to making a 'protected disclosure'

- 13.1 These procedures are designed to complement usual methods of submitting complaints to VGSO.
- 13.2 Members of the public are encouraged to use VGSO's feedback process to communicate complaints or concerns with the services provided by VGSO. More information is available in the Enquiry section of the Victorian Government Solicitor's Office website (www.vgso.vic.gov.au).
- 13.3 Employees are encouraged to raise matters with their supervisors and managers at any time.

14. Review

- 14.1 These procedures are reviewed regularly to ensure they meet the objectives of the Act and accord with IBAC's guidelines.
